DECISION IN ALASKA BOUNDARY CONCEDED

Is Said by London Morning Advertiser Virtually to Concede the American Case—Good Authority Is Claimed.

London, Oct. 16.—The Morning Advertiser announces that it regrets to learn from a source which it regards as beyond question that the decision of the Alaskan boundary tribunal virtually concedes the American case.

The Morning Advertiser, which appears to be thoroughly satisfied with the reliability of its statement, says the news will be received in Canada with consternation.

It gives a map and a detailed explanation showing how the decision will affect Canada and adds that those who have followed the arguments have been thoroughly satisfied with Clifford Sifton's preparation and presentation of the case.

The dinner given by the Pilgrims society to the Alaskan boundary commission at Claridge's hotel last night proved the most notable assemblage of Englishmen, Americans and Canadians ever brought together in London. In addition to the members of the commission the British cabinet ministers, the American ambassadors and the most prominent members of English public life were present. The guests numbered 150.

Field Marshal Lord Roberts presided. On his right sat Ambassador Choate and on his left Lord Chief Justice Alverstone. Lord Lansdowne, Sir Louis Jette, Sir Stanley Clark, the king's equerry and Secretary Elihu Root sat at the same table, while the other guests were distributed at small tables around the room. The Englishmen present wore their decorations and orders.

Only One Lexington Man Has Any Opposition to Interfere With Popular Court.

Lexington, S. C., Oct. 15.—James H. Tillman, who was charged with the murder of N. C. Gonzales, editor of the State, in Columbia on January 18 last, was acquitted this morning. The jury was out 20 hours before reaching a verdict.

A demonstration followed the announcement, friends of the defendant giving vent to their feelings in a shout. The court previous to sending the verdict had admonished the spectators to refrain from any demonstration.

Mr. Tillman left the court room in company with his attorneys, but parted with them at the front door to go across the street to the jail, visiting that institution for the last time to gather up his effects. He had been in custody since January 15, his application for bail having been refused.

Mrs. Tillman and the defendant's mother were not in the court room when the verdict was announced, but the former had been apprised of an acquittal and was at the jail to await the announcement and meet her husband there. The mother had heard at her hotel that the jury had come in and was hastening on her way to the court house when she met her son coming out on the street. Learning the result she threw her arms around his neck. Later all gathered at the hotel where they received their friends and relatives.

Mr. Tillman left on an afternoon train for his home in Edgefield, accompanied by his wife and friends from his home county. Senator Tillman was not present today, having gone yesterday to his home at Trenton, where his wife is recovering from injuries received in a runaway accident.

Soon after the jury went out yesterday afternoon a ballot was taken which resulted in a vote of 10 to 2 for acquittal. Soon after one of the minority joined the majority, leaving one juror standing out. He held to his views and kept the jury out all night. It was only about 20 minutes before the knock was heard on the jury room door this morning that he yielded. Many of the jurors got no sleep at all during the 20 hours they were locked up.

The count in the indictment charging the carrying of concealed weapons was ignored during the trial and the jury took no action on it.

After the verdict was announced the clerk held up the pistols which had figured in the trial and offered them to the defendant, who waved them off, saying, "They are not mine."

James H. Tillman, after his acquittal, made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"I feel very grateful at the result of the verdict, but at no time did I apprehend any serious consequences. I, of course, deeply regret the death of Mr. Gonsales, but I was forced to do what I did. I have never apprehended a conviction, for I felt that I did no more than any man would have done under the same circumstances and what I was compelled to do. My position was fully stated in the testimony I gave on the stand.

"I did ask for a change of venue, because I was convinced on account of prejudice in Richland county, that I could not get a fair and impartial trial in that county, but I felt sure as soon as my case could be presented to an impartial jury I could be vindicated. The verdict has justified the correctness of my judgment."

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S NEGLECT DELAYS PAYMENT OF TROOPS

Special to the Gazette.

Camp Goldfield, Oct. 15.—"The postponent of payday is owing to the absence of Attorney-General Miller in Washington," said a prominent officer today. He is there arguing the state's case against Kansas in the water rights suit. It is necessary for the governor and the attorney-general to indorse every voucher in full as follows:

"We, the governor and attorney-general, have examined this voucher,' and the same is then signed by both officials. It is impossible for the attorney-general to delegate this authority to anyone else, so there is only one thing to do and that is to wait."

Sergeant Harry Shelby of B company, First regiment, has been placed in the guard house with several privates, charged with drinking while on post at the Gold Coin mine. The men at this post have been approached repeatedly by outsiders who held out alluring propositions to the men to take drinks and in a thoughtless moment three members of last night's guard listened to the temptations to a certain extent. A court martial will be called and the prospects are good for them to pay severe penalty.

A stringent order was issued today against selling liquor to the guardsmen. It begins to look as though the influences which have been brought to bear on Governor Peabody to order a reduction of troops in the field will be defeated after all. General Bell does not believe the call will ever come, as up to the present time he has not been officially notified of the governor's intention in the matter.

Colonel Gross, paymaster and inspector general accompanied by J. Q. MacDonald left for Denver this afternoon, where they will deliver the pay rolls to the governor tonight.

A carload of horses arrived this morning for the Denver City troop. The horses came from Denver and are a fine looking lot of animals.

Roy Campbell of the Denver City troop of cavalry, who was to have appeared before the court martial which takes place in Denver next Monday, was this morning granted a 20-day furlough by direct order of Governor Peabody. This, it is believed, will enable Campbell to escape trial, as men on furlough are not required to appear before the court.

Col. Lewis was relieved from duty this morning at his own request. Colonel Jones said that his business in Denver is suffering from his continued absence. The colonel has been in charge of the small arms target practice.

SECOND-HAND DEALER AND SALOON MAN CHARGED WITH HAVING GOODS IN POSSESSION.

Special to the Gazette.

Victor, Oct. 15.—H. Herb and E. Litterer were arrested this evening in Goldfield by the military authorities, the former at his second-hand store, the latter at his saloon. Herb was charged with the purchase of both guns and blankets from the soldiers and was brought to Camp Goldfield, but on account of the serious illness of his wife, he was allowed to return home, where he will be kept under surveillance by the military authorities.

Litterer was caught with two pairs of U. S. blankets in his possession, and after being questioned at military headquarters was placed in the guard house. Both men will be tried by the United States government as well as the state authorities.

TWENTY-FIVE DEPUTY SHERIFFS SENT TO PROTECT THE SMELTER SWITCHMEN OUT.

Denver, Oct. 15.—A special from Buena Vista, Colo., to the Denver Republican says that 25 deputy sheriffs were sent from Buena Vista to Salida today to protect the Salida smelter. It is reported that the smelter had one furnace working all day today and expects to have others in operation in a short time. No trouble has so far been reported.

A special to the Republican from Salida says a strike of the switchmen and helpers in the yards of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad here has been inaugurated on account of an alleged reduction in wages which is said to have been made by the company. A grievance committee has been sent to Denver to confer with the officials of the road.

EXALTED RULER OF ELKS WILL ATTEND CEREMONIES NEXT MONTH—MANY INITIATIONS LAST NIGHT.

Joseph T. Fanning, of Indianapolis, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, has definitely announced that he will be present at the dedication of the Elks new club house on November 11.

An invitation was sent to Mr. Fanning last month but it was not known whether he could be here at the time or not until yesterday, when it was announced that he had made his arrangements to come.

The committees in charge of the dedication and of the organization of an Elks association, to be composed of Colorado lodges, are making good progress with their plans, and a large gathering of the antlered herd are expected next month when the local members dedicate their new home.

Over 2,000 visitors are expected here to take in the dedication, the association meeting and to greet Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning.

The railroads have granted an open rate of one fare for the round trip from all points in the state to Colorado Springs, on sale at points beyond 150 miles from this city on November 10, and at points within this limit on November 11, good returning on November 13.

The local Elks initiated 20 candidates into their lodge last night. After the initiation an informal reception was held in the club rooms.

PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN MINE WORKERS WILL LEAVE CHICAGO FOR COLORADO SATURDAY.

Chicago Oct. 15.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America will leave for Colorado Saturday night at the close of the civic federation conference, to take personal charge of the controversy between the coal miners and the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the Victor Fuel company. The men have demanded an eight-hour day with an increase of 2½ cents, which the companies refuse to grant.

Unless a settlement is reached, Mr. Mitchell said tonight, a strike affecting 23,000 men will be called on his arrival in Colorado.

BATTLE MOUNTAIN AJAX HAS STOPPED OPERATIONS

It Is Said Shut-Down Is Only Temporary, Pending a Complete Change of Management.

Special to the Gazette.

Victor, Oct. 15.—The Ajax property on Battle mountain today closed its big property. The entire office force was discharged, but other positions were secured at various properties for the 80 odd miners. Tonight only a few pumpmen, engineers and watchmen are working on this Battle mountain bonanza.

The Ajax property closed down on the 10th of August at the inception of the strike in the district, but before a week had passed they had resumed operations with non-union men. In fact, they were the first property that resumed with non-union men and without guards, never being troubled in the least.

Officers of the property refused to state the cause of today's action, but it is said on good authority that the close-down is only temporary, pending a complete change of management. J. R. Finlay, recently manager of the Portland, is named as the man who in the future will manage this mine.

The Ajax company is officered by Judge A. E. Colburn, president; J. E. McRay, vice president, and C. H. Dudley as secretary and treasurer.

SUSPECTED DYNAMITER ARRESTED IN MONTANA

Says He Worked in Colorado a Year Ago and Was Injured in Accident on Sun and Moon Mine.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 15.—Six sticks of dynamite were found on the Northern Pacific tracks near Birdseye, eight miles west of Helena, this morning. An extra freight eastbound, passed over the powder during the night without exploding it.

George Hammond, suspected of being implicated in the dynamite explosions on the Northern Pacific, was arrested here today, half a mile from where the explosive was found on the track, and brought to Helena and put in jail. When arrested Hammond was armed with a Colt's revolver and had a belt full of cartridges.

He says he worked in Colorado a year ago and was injured in an accident in the Sun and Moon mine and came into the hills to get a rest. He confessed to stealing supplies in the vicinity where he was found.

Two other arrests have been made in the same vicinity, but the names of the men are not known.

INVESTIGATION OF THE SHIPBUILDING COMPANY.

It Is Claimed That the Original Directors Were Simply Dummies and Their Acts Invalid.

New York, Oct. 15.—The entire time at today's hearing of the Ship Building company investigation before Referee Oliphant was given up to the taking of testimony covering the incorporation and organization of the company in New Jersey.

Frederick Seward, Horace Gould and Kenneth McLaren, young men connected with the Corporation Trust of New Jersey, who acted either as incorporators or directors of the Ship Building combination, were called to the stand and questioned as to the circumstances under which they served the promoters of the trust.

It is claimed that the original directors were simply "dummies" and that while the forms of the law were closely followed at all of the meetings, none of their acts was of legal value.

The hearing went over until next Wednesday, October 21, when Lewis Nixon will take the stand.

RAIN INTERFERED WITH FORT RILEY MANEUVERS

REPORTED OFFER MEDIATION ONLY INCIDENTAL REMARK OF A GENERAL NATURE.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 15.—When Mr Moyer was asked today if James F. Burns of the Portland had been requested to intercede in bringing about a settlement in the present strike, he stated:

"President Kennison and other members of the district union and myself called on Mr. Burns yesterday afternoon at the Portland mine and had a friendly talk. When I came through Colorado City the other day a committee of the Mill and Smeltermen's union asked me to speak to Mr. Burns relative to certain men now employed at the Portland mill and that was the object of our visit yesterday. I will say, however, that everything is satisfactory to the union at both the mine and mill of the Portland company.

"As I was leaving Mr. Burns he remarked that he would be very pleased to do anything in his power to bring about an end of the difficulties in the district. I thanked him and said I would be very glad if he could accomplish anything in that direction."

Relative to reports in circulation yesterday:

"The alleged proposition reported yesterday in regard to a settlement is out of the question as the Western Federation of Miners did not call this strike. It was done by district union No. 1, but afterwards ratified by the Western Federation of Miners.

"The idea of affiliating with the United Mine Workers is absurd, as the matter is in the hands of the local unions and could not be under Mr. Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell would be about as well qualified to handle a strike here as I would be to take charge of one in the coal mines. There are no metal workers in his organization and I doubt if any would be admitted to it."

DENVER WOMAN AND 2-YEAR-OLD BABY LOST WAY ON PRAIRIE.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Oct. 15.—A mother and her child perished in last night's storm.

Mrs. Kate Lonergan and baby Francis, aged 2 years, accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Doran, attempted to drive from Denver to a ranch in Adams county, 15 miles from the city, where Mrs. Lonergan was employed. The storm was so fierce that the women decided to seek refuge at the ranch of County Commissioner Fitzpatrick, and abandoned their rig to walk to the house. In the darkness they wandered from the path and were soon hopelessly lost. For hours they struggled through the deep mud with the pitiless rain and snow beating in their faces.

Little Francis became exhausted and the women had to carry him. After hours of the struggle for life Mrs. Lonergan discovered that the boy was dead.

Then the mother's heart was broken and she fell fainting into an irrigation ditch. Mrs. Doran was too weak to drag her friend from the ditch and she wandered over the prairie until daylight, seeking help.

When the bodies of Mrs. Lonergan and her child were found life had departed. Mrs. Doran is in a serious condition.

MEMBERS OF PROMINENT LEADVILLE FIRM ARE PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Leadville, Colo., Oct. 15.—Leonard M. Smith and Robert W. C. Powell, composing the firm of Powell & Smith, were arrested this evening and taken before Justice of the Peace Paddock, where they were released under $1,000 bonds for their appearance for hearing.

The charge against them is embezzlement. The complaining witness is Hermidas Nadon, a blacksmith, who alleges that the members of the firm got away with $850 of his money.

The defendants are members of one of the most prominent real estate firms in the city and have been in business prominently here for a number of years.

It is alleged that the money which is charged to have been embezzled, was given to the firm of Powell & Smith to be loaned and that they loaned it on property, taking a trust deed.

It was reported last night that there would be other and probably more serious charges preferred and that the amount involved might reach $10,000.

STATUE OF SHERMAN UNVEILED IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Oct. 15.—With impressive ceremonies an equestrian statue of William Tecumseh Sherman was unveiled here this afternoon in the presence of official Washington, the president at its head, and thousands of veterans, members of the societies of the armies of Tennessee, the Cumberland, the Ohio and the Potomac. As the two large flags enveloping the statue were drawn aside by William Tecumseh Sherman Thorndyke, the nine-year-old grandson of the dead chieftain, the cannon of the Fourth artillery boomed a salute and the marine band struck up the "Star Spangled Banner."

Success marked every detail of the ceremonies, which were in charge of Colonel T. W. Wymons, superintendent of public buildings and grounds.

PLAINTIFF IN SUIT AGAINST PORTLAND COMPANY GETS JUDGMENT FOR $2,000.

Five hundred dollars was added to the verdict of John D. O'Hara in the district court yesterday, in the new trial of his case against the Portland Gold Mining company.

Some weeks ago a verdict of $1,500 was rendered in favor of O'Hara, but immediately after a motion for a new trial was made and through stipulation with the attorney for the plaintiff, it was granted. The plaintiff's attorney considered the first verdict faulty in some respects and agreed to the new trial for that reason.

Within an hour after the case was referred to the jury yesterday, a verdict was returned giving judgment for $2,000. The complaint in the case was filed some months ago and asked for damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained through the negligence of the defendant company. It is probable that the defendant will file a motion for a new trial within the next few days.

NEARLY 100 MINISTERS IN ATTENDANCE — REV. J. B. M'CUISH MODERATOR.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 15.—The opening session of the synod of Colorado of the Presbyterian church was held tonight in the First Presbyterian church of this city.

There are nearly 100 ministers present of the 126 churches represented in the synod. The principal business of the opening session was the election of a moderator, the office falling unanimously to Rev. J. B. McCuish of Leadville. A sermon and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper completed the exercises of the first session. The sermon was preached by the retiring moderator, Rev. O. S. Baum of Denver.

The sessions will be continued throughout Saturday. The program includes addresses, papers and discussions by ministers from all parts of the state.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the synod of Colorado will be held Friday and Saturday.

Many of the delegates are here in attendance at the session of the synod.

POSTOFFICE CONSPIRACY CASE IS ON TRIAL

Sensational Testimony Relative to Certain Features of the Tyner Administration.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 15.—In the trial of Miller and Jones for alleged conspiracy to extort a bribe the government ended this afternoon and the defense introduced evidence for three hours. One of the defendants was still on the stand when court adjourned.

All of the witnesses of the government were federal officers or former employes of the government, the most prominent being C. A. G. Christiancy, who was first assistant attorney in the office of the assistant attorney-general for the postoffice department when D. V. Miller was the second assistant attorney-general or the next in rank to the witness under the Tyner administration.

Little Francis became exhausted and Christiancy, while no longer connected with the postoffice department, was a startling witness in testifying that Miller had not submitted some important matters in the Ryan case to him and had misled him in regard to others, notably in the information on which was based the ruling contained in a letter signed by Christiancy and sent out last December, which the government claims was sent to Johns for Ryan & Co.

SENSATIONAL SHOOTING IN SAN FRANCISCO

Woman Student at University Was Killed by Former Lover Who Committed Suicide.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—Josephine Meade, a student of the University of California, was shot and killed today by Paul Schmidt, aged 25 years, who afterward committed suicide.

Miss Meade was formerly a resident of Los Angeles, where she was employed as a teacher in the public schools. Schmidt was also a resident of Los Angeles, where he is said to be prominently connected.

Schmidt and Miss Meade have been acquainted several years, and were once engaged to marry. His attentions became distasteful to her, however, and she, becoming alarmed at his threats against her life, gave up her position in Los Angeles and went to Boston to escape him, afterward coming to this city, where Schmidt followed. Miss Meade was a niece of Vicar General Hartnett of the southern California diocese and was of an excellent reputation.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 15.—After a spectacular chase of several blocks with a large crowd following, Mason Robinson, a carpenter, tonight attempted to kill his wife Mae, and, thinking he had succeeded, blew out his brains and expired on the sidewalk. The Robinsons had been separated for several months.

MERRILL'S BOND OF $10,000 IS FORFEITED

Boston, Oct. 15.—When the case of Moody Merrill, who is under indictment charged with embezzlement of various sums, was called in the superior court today, the respondent was not present and his bonds were forfeited. Merrill is under bonds of $10,000.

Marcellus Coggan, one of the sureties for the missing man, states that Merrill is in New York, where he has interests of such a nature that he has found it hard to get away.

Mr. Coggan is sure that Merrill will be ready to answer the indictment within a month.

EXPRESS STRIKE DOES NOT AFFECT COLORADO

Denver, Oct. 15.—Regarding the strike of the employes of the Pacific Express company, General Agent R. A. Palmer said tonight:

"So far as I know there has been no strike of the employes in Denver and we have no other office in Colorado employing our own men. At other points we work in conjunction with other companies. The total number of our employes in Denver is less than 30 and I do not believe that one-third of that number would go out should a strike be declared."

Bankers Arriving in Colorado Springs from All Parts of the East—Traveling in Palatial Cars—Evening at the Antlers.

Put your best foot forward and your right hand out today.

Let the city of wealth at the base of Pike's Peak make its best side known to the bankers.

They arrive today, these men of many millions, in large numbers. Some of them were in town yesterday, and the weather wearing its best, they got a good impression of Colorado Springs.

Please, Mr. Weather Man, be good today.

Remember, the bankers are here.

The coming of the wealthy men has not been overlooked by Colorado Springs. They have friends in this city, who regret that their itinerary will not permit them to spend more time here while en route to San Francsco to attend the big convention. But, it was learned yesterday, that preparations are being made for the entertainment of a number who will stop over on their return trip.

Prominent homes of the city will be thrown open for the entertainment of the bankers who will stop off here, and everything done to impress them favorably with western hospitality.

And as for today, the bankers who arrive in Colorado Springs will enjoy themselves. In addition to the rides and drives that are planned, the Cleveland delegation will banquet at the Antlers hotel tonight.

First Delegation.

The first delegation to pass through the city was from Chicago.

The party arrived at 2:30 o'clock and did not even poke their heads out of their car windows.

The second delegation, consisting of Michigan bankers, was more polite and chose to anchor their special train early in the morning at the Rio Grande depot and see the sights. Breakfast was eaten at the Antlers hotel, and, much to the disgust of the early shift of bell boys, who had visions when the party first arrived of the wealth of the members being displayed to their advantage, the entire delegation of twenty-seven people left immediately to "do" the town which on this occasion included the Garden of the Gods, Manitou and a trip to the Peak.

After increasing the number of corpuscles in their blood by the ride to the upper region, the visitors returned to the hotel, and left in the afternoon for the west over the Denver and Rio Grande.

Early this morning the special from New York passed through the city. The visit of the New Yorkers was very much like that of the Chicago crowd in that it was brief. It consisted merely of a raising of blinds and a glance at the mountains. A few of the most venturesome, dressed for the most part in negligee costume, got out and shivered upon the platforms, took a look at the mountains, and then returned to their berths.

From Cleveland.

The longest stay to be made on the outgoing trip by any delegation will be made by the party from Cleveland and other Ohio points, who arrive here about 10 o'clock this morning, spend the day in sight-seeing, and have a banquet and ball at the Antlers this evening.

The banquet promises to be quite elaborate. It will consist of eight courses, and covers will be laid for 125. After the banquet a ball will be given, the hotel orchestra to furnish the music. No reservation have been made for rooms, and it is not known whether the party will spend the night here or not.

This morning a drive will be taken, and this afternoon the trip up the Peak will be the number on the program. The party will return to the hotel for the banquet at 6:30 o'clock.

Local Bankers Invited.

Manager Kittredge of the Antlers was asked by letter to invite all local bankers to attend the banquet, and practically all will accept the invitation.

Owing to the many changes in the itineraries, it has been almost impossible to determine the exact time of the arrival of any of the delegations. For that reason no reception has been planned by the local bankers, but at the banquet this evening and this afternoon they will try to play the part of hosts as well as possible. Their efforts will be directed to securing visits by the delegates to Colorado Springs after the close of the convention, when more time can be spent here.

The Pennsylvania Lines.

The great Pennsylvania railroad and other lines of the east, including the New York Central, together with the Rock Island and Denver & Rio Grande between here and Chicago are making special efforts to impress the bankers. The service which the railroads are giving is such as to advertise them in a way that will turn money into their treasuries. "Palaces on wheels," is the name applied to the trains on which the bankers are riding and inside the luxuriantly fitted coaches may be found everything from porters to pianos.

In addition to the ordinary, every-day luxuries that bankers have in the way of solid silver service and mahogany-made furniture, the Pennsylvania rich men are priding themselves on the possession of something new and exclusive—a chaperone!

Yes, the Pennsylvania road has provided a chaperone to look after the welfare of its patrons; and it is with much satisfaction that the bankers of the Keystone state are traveling with this chaperone.

Among the members of the Michigan delegation in the city yesterday were H. C. Potter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wing, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Noble and Mr. and Mrs. W. Livingstone, all of Detroit. F. B. Gilmer, who is at the head of the passenger department of the Rock Island at Detroit, was in charge of the special.

Yesterday afternoon the Illinois and Ohio delegations and the Missouri-Kansas parties passed through here but did not stop. The members are contemplating visiting the city on their return.

E. F. Swinney, president of the First National bank of Kansas City, headed the Missouri-Kansas delegation.

Colorado Clergymen Take a Hand in the Race Fight at Empire Theater and Duncan Files Suit.

The taking down of the anti-negro signs by the management of the Empire theater yesterday put an end to the plans that were under way among the colored people of the city, to tear them down forcibly.

According to Rev. W. E. Gladden, the colored people of the city are up in arms over the drawing of the color line by the theatrical manager.

"We learned early today," he said last night, "that the colored people of the city were planning to get those signs out of the lobby of the theater by forcible means, if necessary and I should have favored the plan myself if there was no other way. But Rev. Mr. Burleigh and myself recognized that if such a thing were done, it would probably have resulted in serious trouble and we determined to prevent it if possible. We saw the mayor and the chief of police and through the latter the signs have been removed."

While the signs notifying the negro that his patronage was not solicited have disappeared, it is not understood that Manager Oppenheimer has changed his attitude.

On the other hand, he is said to have decided to fight the matter to a finish in the courts, nor will he permit, under any circumstances, he says, colored people to occupy but the seats designated especially for them in his theater.

When the two colored clergymen called upon Mayor Harris it is understood he promised to investigate the matter, but was not certain of the city's position in the premises. However, it is stated that when the matter was presented to Mr. Oppenheimer by Chief Reynolds, the manager willingly consented to remove the signs.

The suit threatened by W. H. Duncan was filed in Justice McClelland's court yesterday morning, asking for judgment in the sum of $300. It has been set for trial October 22.

TIME IS EXTENDED ONE DAY, BUT THAT DOES NOT EXCUSE PROCRASTINATION.

The time for registration has been continued by County Clerk W. H. Reed until October 19, thus giving voters one more day in which to record their names on the poll books.

All those who have moved from one precinct to another since the election last spring, and all those who will vote for the first time, must see that their names are on the registration books by next Monday. If they have not registered by that time they will be denied the right to vote.

It is generally estimated that about one-third of the voters move between elections, and on this basis it will be necessary for approximately 4,000 persons to register if the full vote is to be cast.

The Republicans have already registered over 2,000, and the Democrats have registered between 700 and 800. It is the opinion of the Republican officials that the majority of the balance unregistered are Republicans and for that reason it is specially urged by County Chairman R. L. Chambers that every Republican who has not yet complied with the registration regulations, do so at once.

The registration books last night contained over 100 more names than were on them the day before, and it is expected that a still larger number will apply with the rules [illegible]

Lessees Say Property is in Fine Condition.

NEW PLANT OF MACHINERY TO BE INSTALLED—SEVEN-CAR SHIPMENT FROM ABE LINCOLN.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 15.—Lessee Burbridge and associates operating under lease the Dexter property on Bull hill have recently opened up a good looking body of ore in the bottom of the 500-foot shaft while in the course of sinking.

From assays received it gave values of from $34 to $60 to the ton. The ore body is about a foot and a half wide and the lessees are now developing it as fast as possible. Besides following the ore shoot, they have also resumed sinking and will go down another hundred feet. The property as a whole is in fine condition, and the lessees have been saving considerable ore from the upper levels which has been shipped out at pretty regular intervals the last few months.

An Ajax Lease Sold.

Lessees Jones and Hildebrand, who have been operating under lease block six of the Ajax property on Battle mountain, yesterday sold their lease to I. B. Langley and T. M. Leonard, two well-known lessees of this district. The price paid could not be learned.

The block of ground turned over is developed by a shaft some 60 feet deep, being the original working shaft sunk on the property, and from there some rich ore has been extracted but some years ago. It was possibly this shaft that opened up the Battle mountain bonanza, but was afterwards abandoned and a large shaft sunk a little distance away.

The new lessees have between eight inches and two feet of ore to commence work on, and from assays received it will all run between two and one-half and three ounces to the ton. A new plant of machinery will be installed immediately and the property worked on quite an extensive scale for lessees.

Gold Sovereign.

Lessee Haas, operating on the Gold Sovereign property, where he is working a block of ground through the old Whisper shaft, yesterday sent out a four-car shipment of a fair grade of ore.

The lessee still has about four carloads of ore broken in the drift and stopes which they are raising to the surface and will probably be sent out by the first of next week. The ore is being mined from all over the block of ground under lease, and from assays received it runs between an ounce and a half and two ounces to the ton, while with every two or three carloads of coarse rock they get one carload of screenings which run four ounces or better to the ton. All the ore is sent direct to the Black sampler of the district.

Another Cyanide Plant.

Manager Parfet of the Streator and Cripple Creek Gold company, which is operating the Snow Shoe claim east of Gillett, returned from Denver where he went to make final arrangements for the erection of a 50-ton cyanide plant.

The company is now working quite a force of men timbering the shaft from the 200-foot level and stations have also been cut and the workmen are now driving on the vein from this point.

From the No. 2 shaft timbering has been done for some 30 feet and the work of sinking the shaft has been resumed. The vein which the company is following in this shaft improves as depth is attained.

Mary McKinney to Resume.

It is reliably reported that the Mary McKinney property at Anaconda will resume operations next Monday. However, this property will not resume with their old working force, but will start in working one shift with about 35 or 40 men. As soon as the property gets in running order once again a second shift will be put on. This property has been lying idle practically since the beginning of the strike.

Abe Lincoln Shipment.

Manager Swanson of the Abe Lincoln mine located at Poverty gulch, today sent out seven carloads of ore. The ore was hauled by wagons of the Colorado Trading and Transfer company to the depot, where it was sent by rail to the Denver smelters.

MOTIONS FILED BY THE ORPHAN BELL COMPANY.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 15.—In the cases of the Orphan Bell company vs. the Isabella Gold Mining company motions were filed today in the district court asking that certain alleged immaterial portions of defendant company's answer be stricken out.

There are three separate cases filed by the Orphan Bell company against the Isabella company demanding $15,000 damages in the aggregate. C. J. Hughes Jr. and Spurgeon & Cassidy are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SALIDA SMELTERMEN WILL NOT WORK 12 HOURS

Salida, Colo., Oct. 15.—One hundred and fifty men employed in the Ohio & Colorado company's smelter here quit work today because the management notified them that they would be required to work 12 hours a day. The men offered to accept a 20 per cent cut in wages for an eight-hour day but the company refused this offer.

BANANAS FROM PANAMA

Colon, Oct. 15.—The United Fruit company is establishing a trade in bananas between the isthmus of Panama and the United States.

SUNDAY REST DAY IS ECONOMY FOR EMPLOYERS

Kansas City, Oct. 15.—Addressing the annual convention of the Roadmasters and Maintenance of Way association here, A. Morrison of Pittsburg, Pa., advised his hearers to treat their men with consideration.

"Give your men one day in seven to rest," said Mr. Morrison, "and let that day be Sunday.

"The company loses money on every man who does not rest one day in seven. Let the men spend Sundays with their families at home and you will have better men. It is economy for the company and kindness to the men. I have proved that it is possible and you can devise means to accomplish it if you will only try."

Another oil well has been opened by the United Oil company at Florence, by bringing in No. 322, five miles south of the city. The oil zone was tapped at 1,500 feet, but the company will sink it to 2,500 feet, in order to encounter a larger flow. As it is the well will produce thirty or forty barrels a day. This is the second well opened in two days.

She took them for unusually large spiders when she saw them coming toward her and killed them with a board. She did not know what they were until her husband told her.

Mr. E. H. Williams, manager of the Coal Creek Water Works company at Florence, drove up to the pumping station, about three miles above Coal Creek, to do some pumping. When he arrived at the place he was surprised to find steam up and a man running the water works pump. The intruder proved to be a Slav and could not understand English. He had been running the pump for two days and burned up about two wagon loads of wood. He was not pumping the water into the town pipe line but was running it out on the floor of the station. Mr. Williams made the man get into the buggy with him and took him to Coal Creek, where a warrant was issued for his arrest. The Slav was arrested and taken to Canon City, where his sanity will be inquired into.

AMUSEMENTS

S. Miller Kent, in "Facing the Music"

The attraction at the Opera house this evening will be Mr. S. Miller Kent, that talented young player who achieved such great success for the past two seasons in "The Cowboy and the Lady." He will be seen in an original farce in three acts called "Facing the Music," which was presented for three months at the Garrick theater, New York, and at Powers' theater, Chicago. The success it received during its long engagements in these cities was phenomenal. In "Facing the Music" Mr. Kent has a character ably suited to him and it is said there is not a dull moment during the evening.

Henry Miller's Engagement

The Henry Miller-Margaret Anglin company is booked to appear at the Opera house for two nights, presenting two different plays. On next Friday evening they will appear in "The Taming of Helen" and Saturday evening "The Aftermath." The organization which this season surrounds Henry Miller, who is starring jointly with Miss Anglin under the management of Charles B. Dillingham, is an unusually strong one and has been put together especially for the forthcoming tour to the Pacific coast, when the Miller-Anglin company will appear in a repertoire of several plays. Chief among these plays will be "The Taming of Helen," by Richard Harding Davis, in which Mr. Miller starred so successfully last season. In this play Mr. Miller will have the role of Philip Carroll and Miss Anglin will have the part of Marion Cavendish, the English actress.

"The Chaperons."

"The Chaperons," with its big company of superior exponents of comedy opera, its dashing array of show girls, its surpassing costume display and its gorgeous scenic equipment, is announced for presentation at the Opera house on next Thursday evening. Few if any musical organizations have enjoyed a more widespread popularity than "The Chaperons" since its original production two seasons ago. It has been seen more than once in all the larger cities and survived a brilliant engagement in New York extending over a period of two months. In the leading roles will be seen John G. Sparks, Mabel Hite, May Boley, Thomas Whiffen, Harry Ladell, Arthur Earnest, Mae Stebbins, Genevieve Day, W. V. Strunz and Oscar Ragland. A big consignment of New York show girls in the most recent costume creations is announced as a special feature.

Temple Theater.

Frank Bacon, the delightfully droll comedian who has kept San Francisco in a spasm of laughter for the past three years at the Alcazar, will present his rural idyl, "The Hills of California" at Temple theater next Monday and Tuesday. This is the play in which Mr. Bacon has scored his greatest success and in the present production he has surrounded himself with a most competent company, special music and scenic equipments and the only and original California quartet. Another feature of the performance will be the specialties introduced by those clever people Gus Tate of "Midnight Bell" fame and Frances Slosson, who will sing the song hit written especially for them by Lee Johnson, "Those Scandalous Eyes." The cast includes such sterling artists as Scott Seaton, Milton Ross, Adolph Angus, Roy Stevenson, Ernest Carron, Gerald Hines, Walker Blake, Claire Sinclair, Jane Weldman and Bessie Bacon.

The line-up of the College Tigers in the big football game with the alumni was announced last night by Manager Hunt of the varsity team. The finishing touches on the practice of both aggregations will be made tonight and the public may expect to see football as it should be played tomorrow.

In addition to the Tigers in better form the spectators will see the Tiger stars of former days perform on the gridiron. The kick-off tomorrow afternoon will be at 2:30 o'clock

Oberfield for two years with the University of Pennsylvania will play with the alumni at center and Bert Wade, former captain of the high school and an ex-college player, will play back of the line. "KID" HUGHES PUT A PLATE GLASS WINDOW TO THE BAD.

Since the passage of the ordinance prohibiting boxing exhibitions in Colorado City, Milton Hughes alias "Pete" Hughes, and even better known as the "Kid," has been keeping himself in condition by training on pretzels and Manitou water. Yesterday, however, he put a large and heavy plate glass door to the test just as easily as he used to get decisions at the Waycott opera house.

During a temporary slump in business yesterday Hughes went into Lillibridge's jewelry store with nothing on his mind, but his hair, and slowly made his way to the showcase containing diamond rings and things, but principally diamonds. He surveyed the shiners so long that when he left the case his wind was bad and he was very groggy. He illustrated the grapevine trend on the way to the door and without stopping to open it, gently shoved his head through the quarter-inch plate glass. Straight Queensbury rules do not allow "butting with the head" but Hughes fouled again by giving the door the knee when the referee wasn't looking. The door was a complete wreck but Hughes escaped with a slight scratch on the chin.

"I just got so interested in lookin' at the links," said Hughes "and the glass was so clear that I didn't notice the door at all.

"No, sir, I wasn't thinkin' about gettin' a ring for HER," he continued in reply to a question. "I was only thinkin' about the diamonds. You know how you get your mind on something and don't notice anything else? Well, that's me.

The glass in the door was covered by insurance and will be replaced at once though it will be a few days before it arrives

WILL PLAY FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Millionaires will play the rubber with the Colorado Fuel and Iron company nine in Pueblo Sunday. Each team has won two games and Sunday will decide the championship of the state.

In their contest with the Steel Workers the Millionaires as last week will be reenforced by Denver and local amateur players.

PROTEST SETTLED BY THE JUNIORS

The second half of the protested game between the North End Juniors and the Bancroffs in the Strang Junior league was played yesterday afternoon. The final score was 17 to 0 in favor of the North Ends. The first half played last week ended in a score of 16 to 0.

YALE'S STAR TACKLE HAS A BROKEN RIB

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 15.—An examination today showed that James Hogan, Yale's star tackle, broke a rib during the game with Holy Cross yesterday.

Ralph Kinney, the other tackle, sprained an ankle

PITTSBURG MUSICIANS DEMAND PAY FOR PLAYING TUNES THAT DIDN'T PLEASE.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—The Boston baseball fans who came here to root for the American league team from that city have been deprived indebted to the Greater Pittsburg brass band to the extent of $250.

When the team and the rooters came here the latter engaged the services of the band for each game that should be played at a salary of $95 a day. After the first day's services the rooters declared that the tunes which the band played were not to their liking, and that they were generally dissatisfied with the playing of the musicians. They, therefore, engaged another band.

Then Professor K. W. Guenther, the leader and manager of the organization, brought suit against Charles J. Lavis and Michael McCreery of the rooters, who had engaged them, for the amount which they alleged was due them.

The case was tried before Alderman Groetzinger, who decide in favor of the musicians. The rooters declare that they will come back here and contest the case.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT,
JOHN CAMPBELL.
FOR JUDGE FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT,
ROBERT E. LEWIS.

REGISTER AND THEN VOTE.

IT IS the duty of all those Republicans who are not now registered to place their names upon the books in the next three days so that they may be ready to cast a ballot on November 3.

It would be to the everlasting disgrace of El Paso county in this particular year, when a supreme justice who is an El Paso man and a district judge are to be elected, if this city and county should abate in any degree its loyalty to Republican principles and Republican candidates. Rather than this there should be every effort to make the majority in this Republican county larger than it ever has been.

There is no question but that the vote of every Republican in this county and every other county in the state will be needed. The political freebooters who rule Denver are preparing to steal the election in that city as they have done so many times in the past. It now appears to be only a question as to how many ballots they will dare to stuff into the boxes for the Democratic candidates. The majority will be just as big as they think it will be "safe" to make it. It is an outrage that disgraces the state.

All that El Paso county can do, will be to roll up just as large a majority as can be obtained by bringing out every Republican vote. Such a majority will be both a tribute to the men who are upon the judicial tickets and will likewise serve as a rebuke to the political corruptionists of Denver.

JAPAN AND MANCHURIA.

ALTHOUGH the progress of negotiations between Russia and Japan indicates that the crisis, which some days ago was regarded as acute, may be passed without hostilities, such a result is by no means certain.

It may be true, as the dispatches state, that Korea is the main point of interest so far as Japan is concerned, but it cannot be denied that the Manchurian situation necessarily increases Japanese animosity against Russia.

"The Orient for Orientals" is a principle which Japan must support as a matter of self-preservation, and Russian aggression in China is unquestionably a direct menace to Japanese interests.

Whatever may be said of the interests of Great Britain, they are no more directly involved than those of Japan, and it is ridiculous to talk of Japan's "pulling Manchurian chestnuts out of the fire" for the United States or Great Britain. Japan herself is vitally concerned in the results. However necessary British cooperation and support may be it rests with Japan to take the initiative. As for the United States, her treaty rights are not affected nor her existing commerce threatened. If, as certain dispatches seem to intimate, Japan is looking for an offensive alliance with the United States, the expectation is wholly without reason. Under present conditions there can be nothing of the kind. Japan must solve her own problem.

GOLD MINES ON THE SURFACE.

THE SURPRISING thing about the present condition of life in Colorado is that everyone does not quit his present job and take to farming.

Here is a Greeley man who raised 12 acres of onions and got $9,600 for his crop—10,000 bushels, at 80 cents a bushel. Another man up that way got $600 an acre from his potato land; yet another got $125 an acre from his sugar beets. And so it goes. All these cases have been verified by pictures of the crops, names of the eminent citizens who raised them, and other important and valuable data.

The fact seems to be that no matter how valuable land may be—and in the northern part of this state to which Horace Greeley first directed the attention of wandering easterners it is held as high as $500 an acre—it still yields an ample profit on the investment, say 50 per cent. net after paying all fixed charges.

What business man, for example, on a $6,000 stock of goods is able to take out a profit of $9,600 with nothing to pay but help and water rents? The onion dealer above noted, no doubt, had $7,000 net, after paying all charges. Even the sugar beet crop, which is one of the easiest to grow and one of the surest crops, yields from $125 to $150 per acre and nets $75 to the farmer after paying all charges; and $75 an acre is a pretty good income on $100 land.

That is the reason why it is queer that everyone in Colorado doesn't drop his present business and get to work on the soil.

Some of us may be hampered by family cares, or by lack of experience, or by a desire to go to the theater, or to live near trolley cars, or a dozen other things but the young man with $500 in his pocket and any sense at all will plant himself upon a Colorado farm and grow up with the country and thus become a bloated bondholder who only works six months in the year.

William McAdoo, former assistant secretary of the navy, had the effrontery to declare at a Tammany meeting last night that "We are fighting for the restoration of Democratic government in the United States."

If there is any greater oligarchy in the country than Tammany Hall or that is ruled by any more czar-like methods, the people have not yet heard of it.

After a seven-column display head over "The arrest of General Chase" it must be rather trying upon the nerves of the Denver papers to come down to a single-column announcement that the officer was merely served with papers in the court martial case.

Let the Republicans of El Paso county see to it that the intent of the Democracy to make a complete Demo-Populist bench in this county is not realized. Robert E. Lewis has proved himself an able and just judge and he should be retained upon the bench for the full term.

The health department of Colorado Springs seems to be unfriendly to the Sunflower state, for the information is given out that "There has been only one case of contagious disease and that was brought here from Kansas."

The people of Indianapolis have elected a Democratic mayor and, just to show him that it was only a joke, they have also elected a Republican council to transact the business.

Win Forbes, the Colorado Springs man whose coattails caused him any amount of trouble and finally landed him in the penitentiary, ought to take warning on his robbing expeditions hereafter and wear a Tuxedo.

Judge Campbell's name at the head of the judicial ticket should serve to bring out every Republican vote in El Paso county.

Late Press Comment

CONCERNING MISS BALFOUR.

"Tay Pay," as all England calls Mr. T. P. O'Connor, gives us a very pleasing view of Premier Balfour's sister in M. A. P. This lady occupies the same position to her brother, Mr. Arthur Balfour, as did Lady Gwendolen Cecil to her father, the late Lord Salisbury. Few people are aware of the influence that this lady exercises upon the daily life of the present prime minister. And she brings brains, common sense, and a deep devotion to the necessities of the situation. Like many men of a dreamy philosophical nature, Mr. Balfour is somewhat absent-minded in matters of business, and still more so as regards the arrangements for his own comfort. But Miss Balfour is always to the fore. She manages the household, and even the stables, engages and dismisses servants, buys furniture and bric-a-brac, and sees to the control of the Whittinghame estates. She is fond of outdoor life and of travel, golfs, cycles, and of late has become a convert to the motor car. Some years ago she, with her brother, made an expedition to the remoter parts of Ireland, bicycling and driving in the cars of the country, and more recently she did some adventurous journeys in South Africa, traveling in a bullock wagon, and afterwards wrote a graphic account of her experiences in a book entitled, "Twelve Hundred Miles in a Wagon." In appearance Miss Balfour is small, slight and pale, with a bright intelligent face. The prime minister deeply appreciates this sisterly affection, and, at the parties he gave last summer in Downing street, he arranged that Miss Balfour should stand by his side to receive the guests, each one of whom he carefully introduced to her. She is often to be seen in the ladies' gallery at the house of commons.

POINTER FOR COLORADO SPRINGS.

Some forty or fifty years ago Noah Webster knocked the "u" out of the word honorable. Just now we have as guests the "Ancient and Honourable Artillery of London," and it is very English to return to the old spelling. The attention of Colorado Springs papers is respectfully called to this.—(Pueblo Chieftain.

Good Short Stories

LEISHMAN'S HAPPY REMARK.

J. G. A. Leishman, the American ambassador to Turkey, is now a millionaire, but in childhood he was an inmate of an orphan asylum in Pittsburg.

It was Mr. Leishman's ready wit and pluck, joined to industry, that caused him to rise in life. There is a story of his youth that exemplifies his power of making the best of an awkward situation.

He was driving along a narrow country road. Suddenly he saw another team approaching from the opposite direction. For Mr. Leishman to turn out would have meant the sinking of his carriage to the hubs in the mud of a ditch, but the other team could have turned out without inconvenience.

The driver of the other rig, however, showed no desire to turn out. He was a fat man, and he and Mr. Leishman approached each other till the noses of their horses touched. Each, it was plain, was determined not to turn out. They stopped, face to face, and for a while glared at each other in silence.

Finally the fat man lighted a cigar, crossed his legs, and began to puff comfortably away. Mr. Leishman took out a pipe and smoked in turn.

Then the fat man took a newspaper from under the seat and began to read. Evidently, Mr. Leishman reasoned, this was to be a contest of patient waiting (and at patient waiting he was not good) or else it was to be a contest that would be decided by a coup of some sort. To accomplish the coup he made up his mind to break the silence, and between puffs he said:

"When you're through with that paper, I'd like to look at it, if you don't mind."

This remark caused the fat man to laugh. He apologized to the other for his churlishness, drew his carriage out so that Mr. Leishman's could pass, and the two parted good friends.—(Boston Post.

PRESIDENT'S ENTHUSIASM.

When Mr. Roosevelt first became governor he called the Albany correspondents into the executive chamber and said: "I propose to receive you all freely and to talk to you frankly, but if you ever print anything I say without my permission I shall deny it."

"Do you know Platt?" asked the president of a friend, meaning the venerable senator from Connecticut. "I do," said the friend. "Isn't he a bully old boy?" asked the president enthusiastically.—(New York World.

MAKING GOOD TIME.

Bob Cole, of Cole and Johnson Brothers, composers of "Under the Bamboo Tree," and the "Maid of Timbuctoo," which Lillian Russell is singing at Weber & Fields, tells a funny story of an incident that happened at the corner of Seventh avenue and Forty-second street one night.

"Rosamond Johnson and myself were just coming out of the Victoria theater, where we had been to see "The Jersey Lily," and we stopped along the corner a few minutes. While we were standing there a man came along who seemed to have considerable difficulty in navigating. He finally stopped in front of us and looked toward the Belasco theater. Just then the electric carriage flashed 42.

"'Thash right,' muttered the inebriate one. 'Thish Forty-shecond street.'

"The call immediately flashed 47.

"'Great Scott,' exclaimed the man. 'Forty-sheventh street already. Thish mus' be a movin' sidewalk. An' it's fash as automobile.'

"And he stood right there thinking that he was making good time home."

OIL FOR THE BODY

You can't lose an atom without feeling it. The body is like an engine, a watch, a machine; must be kept in good order to run right. That's the reason Scott's Emulsion is so successful in all wasting diseases. It feeds, nourishes and strengthens when ordinary food won't. Doctors say Scott's Emulsion is the best nourishment for those who are not as well as they should be—young or old.

QUITE UNLIKE HIS EARLY-DAY PREDECESSOR IS THE JOURNALIST OF THE PRESENT.

The newspaper man has changed in the last decade, says James Keeley, publisher of Chicago Tribune, in the Saturday Evening Post. He has moved from Bohemia into a steam-heated flat or a cozy suburban home. He has divorced himself from the false delights of the happy-go-lucky life and wedded a wife. The glorified haze of tobacco smoke which often clouded the dawn has been swept away by the fresh air of common sense. He has learned that to drink during working hours is a mistake and that the flowing bowl at any time is not so much after all. There is no more sitting

In the chophouse in the alley
When the paper's gone to press.

When the paper's gone to press 80 per cent of the people who make it are in bed.

The old timer prided himself on his ability to write "highfalutin" stuff. Today "fine writing" florid, ecstatic, hysterical writing is—well, we call it "tommy rot." A plain, straightforward, condensed story is what a paper wants. The plainer the English and the straighter the story the better.

Possibly this change of heart and style has rubbed off some of the old-time glamour of the profession. But it is still a business full of excitement, experience and human interest. You sit on the banks of the River of Life and see the world float and rush by. You hold your finger on the pulse of mankind. You ride with the strenuous knight and halt at the doorway of wasted endeavor. You walk arm in arm with Opportunity—"Master of Destiny," you make and break, create and destroy. You tiptoe into the house of death and dance with those who know no sorrow. You shed the light and paint the gloom and sometimes lift it.

The newspaper life has its compensations; it also has its rough spots. Within 12 years I have slept on the warm side of a snowbank in Wyoming—20 below zero, that's all—and have taken what rest I could on the flame-baked earth of Minnesota, still warm, though the fire which swept away millions upon millions of trees and took 900 lives had whirled on its devastating course four days before. I have ridden all night for eight successive nights waiting for the train on which I was a passenger to be held up—and it was, which is another story. I have helped to bury the dead and succor the injured—victims of cyclone of wind and tornado of flame. I have used whisky to wash away icicles from the frozen eyelashes of horses and had to drink whisky or go thirsty for 30 hours—for there was no water. I have trailed with and against the noble red man on the warpath, have lain out all one night in a drenching rain telegraphing a story of flood disaster—for there were no buildings left after the mighty rush of water had swept onward. I have worked 52 hours without sleep—at Homestead, have sat up with election figures for half that space of time.

I have had men, aged and young; women, white-haired and beautiful, weep, plead and call down curses on my head for that which I had to do. Sometimes the knife is as necessary in public life as in surgery—this is the hardest thing of all. And yet, hard a mistress as Journalism is, you like her, you love her—and when you get a good chance to enter some other business you generally "shake" her.

EXTRAORDINARY ACCIDENT AT DENVER FACTORY.

Denver, Oct. 15.—Two men were scalded and bruised by the explosion of a vinegar barrel which they were scalding out with live steam. Bert Jones was painfully scalded about the hands, arms and face, and Newton Loomis was scalded in the eyes and his leg almost broken by flying pieces of the barrel.

There is usually no danger at all in scalding out barrels. A rubber hose is inserted in the bung hole and steam turned on until the barrel is clean. But in this instance the bung hole was very small and the hose wedged in so tightly that there was no escape for the steam. There must have been a pressure of 20 pounds to the square inch when the barrel finally gave way, releasing the steam on the men and hurling pieces of barrel for some distance.

The accident occurred in the canning factory of T. J. Wilmore at South Eighth and West Ninth avenues.

It is well that amid the tide of human misery the old shall take upon their shoulders all that they can bear—they have but a few more steps to take before they are eased of their burden.

DELEGATES HAD UNIQUE CHARACTERS WITH THEM.

General Cecil Clay Makes a Few Interesting Observations on the Weather and Other Things.

With the members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrews that were in this city the other day was a tall, gray-haired man whose right arm has long since left its place by his side. The man with the missing arm is well known to every veteran who fought in the civil war, and his name is none the less well known in Washington, D. C., where he has resided since the close of the great struggle.

General Cecil Clay is a unique character. He was standing in the lobby of the Antlers hotel last night complaining of the fact that he followed the advice of friends and carried an overcoat with him on his trip to the summit of the Peak. "I thought it would be cold," he said, "and when I walked around without it, everybody said I was tough."

When asked how he got his title of "general," the old veteran promptly replied, "I earned it, sir. I fought during the war with the Fifty-eighth Pennsylvania and was brevetted a general."

"See this arm," he said. "I got two bullets in the part that is missing and I got one in this hand," he continued, exhibiting a left that was at once noticed because of the fact that the index finger was badly crooked. "That finger was fixed that way to buttonhole congressmen with," said the old man with a chuckle.

SULTAN HAS PROMISED A GENERAL AMNESTY

Sofia, Oct. 15.—After correspondence with the Macedonian refugees through the Bulgarian government the sultan has promised a general amnesty and funds in aid of rebuilding their homesteads if the fugitives return to Macedonia. The refugees have consented on condition of their reinstallation being under foreign control.

Where is the wise man that hath not his private madness, the good man to whom no monstrous idea has ever come?

Ranch Company Files Another Suit Which Seeks to Restrain Use of Water.

Another suit was filed in the district court yesterday by the Charter Oak Ranch company seeking for an injunction against John Townsend, Horace Hale, Clara B. Hale and others restraining them from using the water of the Spring Branch and Spring Run creeks.

A suit exactly similar so far as demands are concerned, was filed by the same plaintiff against the same defendants several months ago, but just before a judgment was rendered the plaintiff company dismissed the suit without prejudice, and had the right to institute a similar suit if it saw fit. The complaint filed in the original suit was defective and if the suit had not been dismissed judgment would have been entered in favor of the defendants.

The filing of the complaint yesterday was for the purpose of curing the defects in the original document and the same issue, that is the original suit is raised by the papers filed yesterday. It is charged that the defendants are using water in excess to the plaintiffs and the court will be called upon to determine the conflicting water rights.

The Charter Oak ranch is one of the largest and finest ranches in this part of the country and according to the allegations in the complaint it is being ruined because the defendants are taking the water used for irrigation purposes on the ranch and turning it aside above the point where the ditch crosses the ranch.

MOVEMENT TO FORM BRANCH OF ACTORS ALLIANCE IN THIS CITY—SERVICES AT GRACE CHURCH

There is a movement on foot among the local churches to form a chapter of the Actors Church alliance in this city. The object of this organization as every one knows is to bring the stage into closer relation with the church thereby elevating the profession.

The alliance is trying hard to bring into effect the Sunday closing law which will not only give the actors an opportunity to observe the Sabbath but will be the means of obtaining for them a much-needed rest. It is the custom of some member of the chapter to call upon the different actors and invite them to the Sunday worship.

The Rev. Walter Bentley president of the Actors Church alliance, and a delegate of the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew, will preach upon this subject at Grace Episcopal church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

ENFORCEMENT OF SIDEWALK ORDINANCE WILL RESULT IN MORE REVENUE FOR CITY

The police report that there has been no effort so far on the part of anyone to evade the new sidewalk obstruction ordinance which requires that obstructions of every nature shall be removed. Those who received the notices sent out the first day have all complied with the request.

Chief Reynolds says that within two or three weeks at the most all the obstructions will have been removed and it will be up to the building inspector to issue permits at 50 cents apiece for the replacement of signs.

IS THE GIST OF CHARGES MADE BY RYDALL AGAINST THE COLORADO MIDLAND, AND HE WANTS $10,000

Complaint was filed in the district court yesterday by H. L. Rydall in which he asked $10,000 damages from the Colorado Midland railway for putting him off at a way station in a driving rain and causing him to contract rheumatism which resulted in his being unable to attend to his business for a period of six months.

The complaint was filed by Judge J. A. Liston appraiser of the Stratton estate and sets forth in detail the reasons for demanding damages. Rydall alleges that he purchased a ticket at Divide for San Francisco, paying $42.50 for it. He was carried through to the coast and remained there some weeks before returning. On the road home he got off at Reno, Nev. getting his ticket marked by the conductor of the train.

So far his journey had been without interest out of the ordinary, and nothing would have been heard of Rydall's trip to Chinatown if it had not been for an incident that occurred shortly after he boarded the train at Reno on his way home. The complaint at this point charges the conductor of the train he boarded with having told him his ticket was no good.

Speaking through the complaint Rydall says that as soon as he was told the ticket was no good the conductor called another trainman and after learning that he did not have enough money to pay his cash fare grabbed him where it is usual to grab men under such circumstances and hustled him off the train at a little flag station called Wells.

Then comes the details of his night spent in a driving rain which Rydall alleges resulted in his contracting rheumatism which in turn resulted in his being unable to attend to his business for six months and a doctor's bill for $25.

Upon these allegations Rydall claims he was damaged to the extent of $10,000 and asks that such an amount be awarded him at the hand of the court.

Notice to all Persons who Have Failed to Pay the Tax Charged Against Their Personal Property for 1902, or Preceding Years

October 16th I shall begin placing distraint warrants covering such delinquent personal taxes as have not been paid by that date in the hands of bailiffs for attachment. There is no evading the law under which such attachments will be made, and all persons who desire to avoid the heavy additional penalty named by law, will do well to come immediately to my office and settle. The failure of delinquents to see this or former notices does not in any way make invalid the claim for tax and penalties and after a distraint warrant has been placed in the hands of a bailiff for attachment, the full amount, including bailiff's fees, penalties etc., must be paid whether settlement is made with the bailiff or at my office. Under the law NO NOTICE WHATEVER IS NECESSARY but I wish to allow every delinquent this last chance to avoid the heavy extra penalties.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 16.—"Did you ever think what you would do with it if the skies were suddenly to drop ten million dollars in your lap?" asked W. B. Willoughby, a mining expert, who is in Macon visiting his cousin, W. H. Sears, former state senator.

"I am well acquainted with an old man," Mr. Willoughby continued, "who had that identical proposition to face, and he turned it down quick. Why? He said he wouldn't know what to do with it. He deserves it because he worked eleven long years for it and endured the greatest privation, and now that it has come in quantities surpassing his dreams, he doesn't want it.

"Thomas Day was 54 years old when he relocated the claim that had been abandoned by Frederick Harper on the mountain side near Wallace, Idaho, started a tunnel and called it the Hercules mine. He was a carpenter by trade, but abandoned his craft for the siren call of the lodes. Day had hardly enough to eat, and he and his two boys had to work out by the day at other mines to make a living. Between times they pegged away at their tunnel. As the years rolled by, their credit went down to bedrock, and starvation threatened. People hadn't the slightest faith in their striking lead there and urged them to abandon it before they were completely ruined. But their faith in the claim was as the hope of the just. About three years ago Day made a trade with a grocer in Wallace to let him have $200 worth of groceries for an eighth interest. The grocer made the deal more out of sympathy for the old miner than any hope of reward.

"A few days afterward Day hit, at a depth of 1,100 feet, the biggest lead mine that has ever been struck in the northwest. He wasn't surprised at this, but it was a little astounding to notice the change that came over the merchants. Men that wouldn't have trusted him with a dollar offered him their whole stocks on unlimited credit. The grocer who helped him out was offered a million and a half for his eighth interest, but wouldn't sell. Day never begrudged him his enormous realization on his investment. In talking about it recently he told me he was glad that it had turned out so well, for the grocer, for he said that at the time he had been given supplies it seemed as if this was the biggest favor one man could do another.

"When the news got abroad Charles Sweeney and Rockefeller investigated and then made Day a clean-cut offer of ten million dollars cash for his mine. I asked Day why he didn't take it. There was lots of good sense in his reply. 'I never had as much as $5,000 before at any one time in my life,' he said, 'and if I had ten millions all at once it would worry me to death. People would be running at me with all sorts of schemes and it would take a force of secretaries to answer letters. The old lady and me are just plain people and we enjoy life better by living it out the way we've been raised than if we try to mix with the swells.'

"However, Day has laid aside the pick and dynamite and has a few men who use them in his place. The metal runs $500 to the ton and his income is $30,000 a month. Day and his boys live in the same unpretentious style they always did except that they have larger and more comfortable homes. As to dress, you would never notice the difference."

RAILROAD MEN WORKING OVERTIME TO HANDLE THE ORES.

The ore tonnage output of the camp has greatly increased the past month and is probably the largest of the year. The railroads have been extremely busy taking the ore from the mines to the smelter and the Denver & Rio Grande yard crew have been working overtime every night for a month. The local smelter is demanding a great deal of ore, but as a rule they want a higher grade of ore than they are getting. They receive a sufficient quantity of low-grade product, but a great deal is used for fluxing purposes, and what they need and want is a balance, an equal amount of both grades.

Another proof of a large output is the fact that there are no idle ore teams in the camp. They are really not enough to supply the demand and to take care of the work that is laid out for them. Several mines on the outskirts of the city cannot get their product hauled to town as fast as they wish, for the reason that there are not sufficient teams to do it.

The smaller properties in the camp are shipping principally iron ore, but there is a market for every bit of it.

The outlook for the advance in the price of silver is very good for a fairly active winter and if it continues to rise, as many believe it will, to 65 and 70 cents, and it is 60⅝ today, there should be at least from three to four hundred more men at work by the first of the year than there are at present.

The Pueblo and Salida smelters are taking a great deal of Leadville ore and the closing down of the Denver smelters so Manager McDonald of the local smelter says has had no effect on the situation up to the present time.—(Leadville News Reporter.

The George B. Crawford syndicate of New York capitalists, owners of vast interests in the Red Mountain district, are putting in a new pipe line at the Genesee-Vanderbilt, preparatory to the pushing ahead of the great Genesee tunnel. For the past year this company have been locating and purchasing every acquirable claim in the district, and now it seems they will proceed to demonstrate what can be done with them. The country is known to be still rich in the precious metals, and if they flag not in development work Red Mountain will presently take upon herself some of the old-time mining activity.—(Ouray Times.

The Stony Pass Mining company has secured possession of the property, by lease, of the Monarch Tunnel and Mining company. They will now be in a position to push work on the Hercules in Prospect basin, by putting up the necessary buildings and machinery to sink the shaft 500 feet deep and commence to raise the large body of lead and copper ore now opened in the 140-foot level. The ore body is now opened 10 feet wide, 50 feet long and over 100 feet high. From careful tests and shipments the lead ore will give a profit of $12.50 per ton; the copper ore has a net value of $66.29 per ton, and the ore body shows almost equal parts of copper and lead. We congratulate the stockholders of this new aspirant for honors in this wonderful country of large producers and heavy dividend-payers.—(Silverton Miner.

The idea of some managers that they can manage a mine at a distance of from 100 to 1,000 miles is a common fallacy which is responsible for many failures, particularly of the class seeking to get rich quick, the stockholders in the meantime advancing the necessary cash to carry on the work. All the successful mines have been developed by men who have lived at the property, and who inspected it as carefully every day as would the merchant his store. The practice of economy comes only with the constant presence of the manager himself. Prolonged absence on his part places a premium on laxity on the part of the men who are certain to follow the example set by the chief. His presence and vigilance breeds a greater degree of thrift on the part of the employes. Long distance managers, no matter what their salary, and without regard to the wealth of the mine, are the most expensive.—(Ores and Metals.

BELIEF THAT TELLER STRIKE IS EXTENSION OF THE FAMOUS CROWN VEIN.

A prominent mining man, this week, stated that it was his opinion that the recent strike in the Teller mine at Freeland proved that the vein is the extension of the famous Crown vein of the Lamartine group. The ore has the characteristics of the Crown, and it also carries the same proportions of lead and zinc, as well as values in gold and silver. As is well known the Lamartine mine is made up of a network of veins which intersect near the Lamartine shaft. The ore streak in the Teller continues to improve, and it is now clearly determined that it is not a little pocket or bunch but the edge of a large ore shoot.

A contract was awarded this week to William Cogswell and E. A. Adams for driving the Three Friends tunnel a distance of 100 feet. The Three Friends is a recently acquired property of the Chicago Mountain Mining, Milling and Tunneling company, and is situated on Chicago mountain. The tunnel now being driven is to intersect the vein upon which there is a shaft 85 feet deep, in the bottom of which there is showing a streak several inches in width which it is claimed will run over four ounces to the ton. The tunnel is being driven on a crossing vein and will cut the Three Friends at the junction where it is expected to encounter an ore shoot, a part of which is exposed in the shaft. In the breast of the tunnel, four feet of the crevice matter will average $11 per ton, while some of the streak will assay $40 per ton. Manager W. L. Wilson of the company was here this week and was much pleased with the showing in the newly acquired property.

While sinking the Nugget shaft, above the Buckeye tunnel in Eclipse gulch last week, a solid streak of lead ore was encountered on the hanging wall. This has widened out and is now 10 inches in width. Assays made from the streak show it to carry 1.20 ounces gold and 138 ounces silver per ton, besides the lead values. The vein is four feet in width and will be cut by the Buckeye tunnel within the next 60 feet at a good depth. The Buckeye tunnel is now 285 feet to the breast and eight men are employed at the property.

Six men are working on the Josephine group on Chicago creek, and the property is being placed in a workable condition. All of the old workings are being retimbered and connection of the two levels is under way. The crosscut tunnel, which has been driven several hundred feet, will reach the Josephine vein within the next 40 feet, from indications.

The machinery formerly on the Mammoth mine in Russell gulch has been removed and placed upon the Coronation tunnel in Trail creek.

The compressor, an Ingersoll-Sargent, six-drill machine, is now in place at the tunnel, and the boiler will be taken up this week, after undergoing a few needed repairs at the machine shop.—Gazette.

INDUSTRIAL SECURITIES CONTINUED TO SUFFER IN SPOTS —BONDS HEAVY.

New York, Oct. 15.—Professional traders in stocks renewed their attempt today to divorce the movement of the railroad stocks from the depressing influences now overhanging the industrial securities. The effort met with rather less success even than was the case yesterday. There was more business done during the first hour than at any other time during the day.

After that the market fell into neglect, reflecting the futility to attract buying. There was no urgent or general liquidation manifest, but the industrial securities continued to suffer in spots. The reported disruption of the southern pig iron association a further slight reduction in the price of northern pig iron and a decline in the official price of copper were pointed to as concrete evidence of unfavorable trade conditions.

The renewed break in crucible steel preferred at Pittsburg, with the official intimation of a possible passage of the dividend, was another unfavorable factor, and the explanation that this might be necessary to carry the Clairton steel plant, the sale of which to the U. S. Steel corporation has fallen through, gave an impression of growing friction in the trade.

Operators in stocks also kept an eye on the proceedings of the ship-building hearing all day. While the Wall Street mind may be supposed to be sufficiently sophisticated to have been already instructed on some of the methods of incorporation administration which are being disclosed, Wall Street has grown excitedly fearful of the effect on the public at large, which may result from the heated interest now felt in this hearing. The market for industrials, while due in part to a state of mind of the public, has a serious effect on their acceptability as collateral. Some of their weakness is plainly due to the fact that bankers are throwing them out of collateral for loans, owing to the unsteady market that now exists for them. Amalgamated Copper shared in the early weakness of this department, and made a new low record.

Money continued to work easier and sterling was inclined to harden. The bond market was dull and inclined to be heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,000,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on last call.

SENTIMENT IN WHEAT PIT WAS DECIDEDLY BULLISH

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The sentiment in the wheat pit was decidedly bullish throughout the day and the volume of trading was large. Opening prices were firm on higher cables and on private dispatch from Buenos Ayres stating that the crop was damaged by frost. December opened up ⅛@⅜ at 79⅛ to 79¼ and with active covering by shorts the market became firmer. Substantial advices on the outside markets with the cash situation at Minneapolis strong tended to increase the anxiety of the shorts. The feature of trading was the heavy buying of prominent houses which had been previously on the bear side. December advanced to 79⅞, and a good deal of long wheat came out. Late in the day a prominent trader turned seller, disposing of in the neighborhood of a million bushels of December. The close was strong with December up ⅝ at 79½.

Corn ruled firm all day. December closed a shade higher at 45⅜@45½.

The oats market was narrow and dull, December closed ⅜ lower at 36⅞.

Inactivity of trading caused weakness in provisions. The close was weak with January pork off 12½, lard 17½@20, with ribs off 17½.

There Will Be "Phun, Phast and Phurious" at Ceremonial Session Tomorrow Night.

A ceremonial session at which, according to the invitations, there will be "somepin' doin' all the time" will be "phun, phast and phurious" will be given tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock by the members of Jabal Ali Temple No. 76, D. O. K. K. The session will be given in the Knights of Pythias hall in the DeGraff building, and Knights of Khorassan, not only of this city, but from all over the state, will be present.

Those tyros who were left over from the last ceremonial session and others will be taken across the desert and initiated into the mysterious portion of the order. The desert to be used is said to be very long and much fun is expected on the journey.

MET WITH DISFAVOR OUTSIDE OF DENVER.

No more trade excursions will be run to Denver for the benefit of the merchants of that city. The excursions have met with such opposition from merchants of other towns over the state that the paper inaugurating the scheme has abandoned it and no tickets will be sold Saturday.
